Local Connecticut couple launch their first book nationally, “The Goldsteins’ Wellness & Longevity Program, Natural Care for Dogs and Cats” which recently received the D.W.A.A. Award (Dog Writers Association of America) for best new health care book for dogs and cats.

Holistic veterinarian Dr. Robert Goldstein and his partner Susan Goldstein, founders of the very popular Earth Animal Center for Animals in Westport, have devoted three decades as pioneers in a new field of “Integrative Veterinary Medicine”, which combines natural therapies with conventional veterinary medicine. Together they have educated thousands of clients and veterinarians worldwide on the safe, effective and affordable use of alternative therapies such as Therapeutic Nutrition & Nutraceuticals, Chinese Herbal Medicine and Homeopathy. Based upon the Goldstein’s thirty-five years of clinical experience, they have successfully treated animals with chronic diseases such as allergies, arthritis, cancer, diabetes, organ failure and dysfunctions.

Now for the first time, backed by compelling research, findings and a wealth of personal experience, the Goldstein’s book dispenses practical solutions for just about every common condition an animal faces in his or her life as well as an updated approach to treating cancer. This includes a new nutritional blood test evaluation and therapy, founded by Dr. Goldstein and available through veterinarians here in Connecticut, via Animal Nutrition Technologies and Antech Diagnostics. Cancer is considered to be epidemic in certain popular local breeds such as Golden Retrievers, Rottweiler, Burmese Mt. Dogs and Labradors all of which can respond incredibly well to the NBT test and Nutritional Therapies.

The book is brimming over with endorsements from credible folks such as Dr. Gary Null, Marc Morrone, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward.

Said Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman “The Goldstein’s are mavericks of a kind and necessary ones. They take on traditional veterinary approaches and provide pet owners with solid, common-sense holistic alternatives.”

Susan and Dr. Bob are available for interviews and are frequent lecturers in their subject. Their book can be found at local bookstores, the Earth Animal flagship store in Westport, earthanimal.com, or on amazon.com.
